

April 9, 2009

SITE RECEIVES 8000 REQUESTS FOR "BIG" CHOCOLATE BARS

www.businessisgoodhere.com received more than 8100 requests for Bursts chocolate bars and 196, 098 hits in one weekend.

Our local community web site to market the Corvallis lifestyle, be upbeat in a down economy, and attract the attention of potential entrepreneurs received 8100 orders for complementary Burst's 150 Oregon anniversary chocolate bars in one weekend.

The site offered any potential entrepreneur or business who visits and views www.businessisgoodhere.com a free Oregon 150th anniversary chocolate bar as a welcome gesture from Corvallis for touring the web site- previously it was the OBAMA bar. However, the site was suddenly linked to several freebie sites across the nations that specialize in publicizing free offers throughout the state -- flooding BIG with orders in one weekend. BIG, the site's nickname, intends to honor many of these requests with its allotted supplies (site noted while supplies last), BUT also plans to personally email each person letting everyone know we have run out of bars, while extending an offer to come visit Corvallis and personally pick up their chocolate bar from Patrick at Bursts. All 8000 plus Emails will be sorted through so volunteers can address questions relating to Corvallis and/or direct them to the appropriate business resource.

It is great that we can personally tout Corvallis to 8000 persons throughout the nation even if they don't all get a chocolate bar. They will instead receive a response and future invitation to visit and pick up a chocolate bar